

The Stamford Yacht Club will host five US Naval Academy sailboats from 17 to 20 June. 40 midshipmen will take part in seamanship training on Naval Academy 44 sailboats. Before returning to Annapolis the boats will dock at the Stamford Yacht Club for liberty call. The boats will be crewed by midshipmen and supervised by volunteer instructors from the Academy and other sailing institutions. During the weekend there will be an opportunity to tour the sailboats and talk with the crews. Of note the lead instructor is Ken Reightler, Space Shuttle astronaut, Naval Aviator and Naval Academy graduate. If you are interested in attending any of the events during this weekend please contact Alan Gerard at pagerard@mac.com. An invitation is open to all Western Connecticut Navy League members but prior coordination is required.
